Join us for an informative presentation on

Development Oriented Transit: The Portland Streetcar

Featuring the nationally recognized streetcar expert

Rick Gustafson

Vice President of Shiels Obletz Johnsen, Portland, OR

Does transit really stimulate new development? Come hear the Chief Operating Officer for the Portland Streetcar talk about Portland's efforts to link its new streetcar line with adjacent development. As a result of the Portland's commitment to finance and operate a streetcar, it has experienced economic growth, higher density development, trip reduction and improvements in the carbon footprint. Come hear the Portland experience and learn lessons that can be applied in our own communities.
